The website uses its own session and preference mechanisms. Authentication cookies are necessary for the functions requested. Language and local preferences can be removed through browser settings; doing so may require selecting the language or signing in again. This version integrates no analytics or marketing cookies and does not automatically load external videos or maps. "Cookie settings" in the footer opens the preference panel. Accepting optional categories does not authorise unspecified future services; notices and choices are updated before any new activation. Local/system fonts are used without requests to Google Fonts. The inventory describes the website's own mechanisms. Hosting may use technical security mechanisms to protect the service; information about them is available from the controller using the contact addresses.

Basis: Romanian Law 506/2004, Article 4(5)–(6), for device access and storage, and GDPR for associated personal data. Questions or rights requests: contact@yesswimming.ro and contact@festivalulnatatiei.ro.
